

The GRI Community: jointly advancing sustainability reporting

How global sustainability service providers can benefit

Your role as a global sustainability service provider is crucial to advancing sustainability reporting, and GRI relies on your expertise to educate organizations and continually improve the quality of their disclosure. Addressing your specific needs, the GRI Community will help you to stay at the forefront, facilitate practical learning and peer collaboration, while offering profiling and networking opportunities.

A bespoke group package is available for global sustainability services providers, whereby 15 offices – one lead company and up to 14 subsidiaries – can all access the same advantages of Community membership. This includes priority access to GRI events, an annual briefing per group by a dedicated GRI representative, opportunities to boost the profile of their sustainability commitments across the whole business, as well as the full suite of regular GRI Community features.

Benefits of joining the GRI Community

- A year-round program of in-depth learning and knowledge-sharing on sustainability reporting topics and trends.
- Engage with a global network of sustainability practitioners and experts.
- Gain profiling and communication opportunities to showcase your organization's commitment and contribution to corporate transparency.
- Receive a discount on fees for GRI offerings, such as training and events.

By joining the GRI Community as a global sustainability services provider, 15 of your offices can:

- Learn from experts and practitioners.
- Broaden perspectives on the most current sustainability reporting topics and trends.
- Participate in live engagements and interactions.

Moreover, you will directly support GRI's mission and work to develop and update the GRI Standards and influence the global debate on corporate accountability.

Join our global and inclusive network of organizations committed to transparency, comprising of reporting companies, consultancies, academia and NGOs.

GRI Community key facts:

GRI Community package for global sustainability service providers

We have specially created a customized membership package for organizations that provide sustainability services on the global level. Under this Community membership package, your organization can stay informed, sharing expertise and the latest information about GRI when working with your clients.

GRI Community group package (for global sustainability providers)
Learning and Sharing
 Monthly member newsletter	 Annual group briefing by a senior GRI representative	 Live access to the online Reporting in Practice Series
 Access to exclusive library of previous webinars
Community and Networking
 Collective group onboarding call	 Quarterly Global Members Meetings	 GRI Stakeholder Council vote (x1)
 Joint Public Comments sessions	 Networking opportunities	 Dedicated relationship manager
Profiling and Communication
 GRI Community Member mark	 Company logo on GRI's website member directory	 Communication kit
Discounts and Free Tickets
25% discount on any GRI Academy offering for your staff.	25% discount on GRI events tickets

Fees

Our dedicated package enables your global and regional offices to benefit from all activities of the GRI Community at a lower cost than individual memberships.

The GRI Community (global sustainability service providers) group package allows up to 15 offices to access all the benefits of membership for one annual fee of €42,000.

Join the GRI Community by signing up or contact us at community@globalreporting.org to learn more.

www.globalreporting.org

