Working group members

In accordance with due process, the Global Sustainability Standards Board (GSSB) has selected the following members to participate in the working group that will be responsible for reviewing the Phase 1 and 2 of the economic impact related disclosures in the GRI Standards. The members represent diverse, multi-stakeholder backgrounds and bring an excellent combination of relevant knowledge and experience in economic performance, anti-corruption, anti-competitive behavior, and responsible political engagement of an organization.

Alberto Alemanno

Founder, The Good Lobby

Constituency: Civil Society Organization

Alberto Alemanno is the Jean Monnet Professor in European Union Law at HEC Paris, and Founder of The Good Lobby, a nonprofit civic start up aimed at equalizing access to power by developing new forms of responsive corporate political engagement. He regularly advises civil society, leading international organizations, governments, the private sector and philanthropies. Alberto's research has been centered on how the law may be used to counter social, health, economic and political disparities of access within society. Alberto is also permanent visiting professor at the College of Europe, Bruges and at the University of Tokyo School of Public Policy.

He has been named Young Global Leader by the World Economic Forum, Ashoka fellow, Social Innovator of the Year by the Schwab Foundation for Social Entrepreneurship and Innovation, as well as European Young Leader by Friends of Europe for his work aimed at filling the gap between academic research and policy realities.

He regularly publishes in Le Monde, The Guardian, Bloomberg, and Politico Europe and his work has been featured in The Economist, The Financial Times, and Nature and Science. Alberto is known not only for being a prolific scholar and active public interest lawyer but also for being a creative and passionate teacher having first embraced iTunes U, then pioneering Coursera with a massive open online course devoted to the functioning and impact of the European Union, which has reached over 300,000 learners from all over the World.

Originally from Italy, Alberto is a graduate of Harvard Law School, the College of Europe and holds a PhD in International Law & Economics from Bocconi University.

Anne Lindsay

Responsible Investment Coordination, International Transport Workers' Federation

Constituency: Labor Organization

Anne Lindsay is the Responsible Investment Coordinator for the International Transport Workers' Federation (ITF), highlighting the rights of transport workers worldwide and actions needed to support the shift to sustainable transport. A particular focus for Anne's role is engaging with trustees, pension funds, and asset managers on ways to increase respect for human rights in global value chains and support a just transition. She is an active member of the Committee on Workers' Capital, chairing the CWC's taskforce on strategic policy and has represented the ETUC on the EU Sustainable Finance Platform.

Before joining the ITF in June 2020, she worked as lead analyst on the private sector at the Catholic Agency for Overseas Development. As well as leading work on business and human rights, she contributed to successful civil society advocacy for the EU Non-financial Reporting Directive, the Modern Slavery Act, and the UK Bribery Act. She was a director of the CORE corporate accountability coalition from 2011 to 2018.
